FEAR THE GREEK ARMY IS ON POINT OF REVOLT

HOOVER DISCUSSES INDUSTRIAL PEACE AT LABOR MEETING

Former Food Administrator Makes Trip Across Continent In Response To Summons From Samuel Gompers

WASHINGTON, NOVEMBER 12. — (Associated Press) — Questions of industrial peace and related problems were discussed today at a conference between leaders of organized labor and Herbert Hoover, former Federal Food Administrator and a member of President Wilson's second industrial conference.

Mr. Hoover, who came to the conference of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor at request of President Gompers, said he had made the trans-continental trip to discuss "the whole industrial and employment situation."

Mr. Hoover said he had no definite program to offer but he expected to "advise and discuss" with the labor officials on general conditions.

William Green, Secretary of the United Mine Workers, declared the council would not go to any person to discuss the subject of industrial peace.

When Mr. Hoover entered the council room he had with him a sheaf of data to which he expected to refer in the discussion. While Federation of Labor officials are reticent about the subjects to come before the council today it was indicated Mr. Hoover would be asked to discuss means of reducing wage in production to which the data he had, it was said, referred, and which was the result of scientific investigation and research on questions of production.

Organized labor's program for the coming year is being framed and the reconstruction policy was outlined as follows:

"Repeal of existing laws and opposition to proposed laws requiring compulsory arbitration of industrial disputes.

"Opposition to laws restricting the rights of workers to quit work.

"Enactment of legislation placing drastic restrictions upon immigration from all parts of the world with the most rigid control of that from central and southeastern Europe.

"An intensive campaign of Americanization to counteract the influence of political theories not in harmony with the principles of the Government of the United States."

Frank Morrison, secretary of the Federation, declared organized labor would insist the present standard of living and working conditions be not reduced and wages be maintained upon at least the level of 1914 with due allowance made for the decreased purchasing power of a dollar.

HUNTING TOLL IN OHIO IS LARGE

Numerous Accidents Occur The First Day of Hunting Season

Four Mishaps in One Community

St. Clairsville, O., November 16.—Four fatalities, including one of a hunter, were reported to Coroner J. R. Watt Monday.

While hunting with his cousin Fred Parr, 30, of Toronto, Harry Skaggs, 35, was killed on his farm when Parr fired at a rabbit, the load striking Skaggs.

SHOT IN LEG

Newark, November 16.—Jesse Shim-mel is in a serious condition here, the victim of the hunting season. He was trying to extract a shell that was lodged in the breech of his gun when the weapon was discharged and practically the entire charge lodged in his leg.

SHOT BY COMPANION

Athens, O., November 16.—Charles A. Cornwell was wounded when accidentally shot by Thor Olson, while they were hunting.

WOUNDED IN EYE

Upper Sandusky, O., November 16.—William Atherr was shot in the eye while hunting. He will probably recover, physicians say.

WOMAN INJURED

Warren, O., November 16.—Mrs. Jennico Cleveland, 23, is in a critical condition, suffering from a gunshot wound she received when a rifle her brother-in-law was cleaning was accidentally discharged at her home in DeForest, near here.

ANNOUNCE CUTS

(By Associated Press) Rochester, N. Y., November 16.—Cuts in the wholesale prices of men's fall and winter suits ranging from 33 1/3 to 40 percent were announced today by nineteen Rochester clothing manufacturers.

Tonight there are fears of further trouble which may lead to martial law and there is said to be danger that the army may get out of hand.

PRICES PAID FOR ASBESTOS ARE UNDER FIRE

Shipping Board Inquiry Strikes Pay Dirt in Another Line

(By Associated Press)

New York, November 16.—Asbestos cylinder rings used on engines of United States Shipping Board vessels entered into the congressional committee inquiry into shipping board affairs here today.

Stewart Dickson, president of Stewart Dixon & Company, testified asbestos packing was furnished to the board in February and March this year at prices 50 percent higher than they should have been. He said there were five bidders for the contract four of which were virtually the same. The four averaged $1.50 a pound. His bid was $1.20.

HARDING IS BUSY IN BROWNSVILLE LEAVE TOMORROW

President-Elect and Party Finally Leave Isolated Point

Preparing For Speech in New Orleans

(By Associated Press)

Brownsville, Texas, November 16.—Forced by wind and weather to abandon his vacation in Point Isabel, President-elect Harding turned his attention today to work that had been piling up during his week of isolation, beginning work on the address he is to deliver Thursday in New Orleans. Senator and Mrs. Harding came to Brownsville from Point Isabel yesterday and will leave tomorrow for New Orleans where they will go aboard a steamer for Panama.

FARM CONGRESS NOW AT WORK

(By Associated Press) Columbus, O., November 16.—Formation of convention organizations by states and routine business took up time of delegates to the Farmers' National Congress at the first session of the four-day meeting this morning.

President O. G. Smith, of Kern, Nebraska, gave his annual report this afternoon.

LEAGUE COMPANY WILL NOT REFUSES DISTURB FEDERAL AMERICAN WIRE

Proposed Treaties Are Withdrawn to Avoid Friction

No American Problems Expected To Arise At Present Session

(By Associated Press)

Geneva, Switzerland, November 16.—All danger that the Assembly of the League of Nations may encroach upon the Monroe Doctrine by considering American questions in the absence of the United States has been averted by the withdrawal of a request by Bolivia and Peru for revision of treaties with Chili. These requests were withdrawn yesterday.

It is not expected any other American questions with dangerous possibilities will come before the present session of the Assembly. It is reported that South American delegates have agreed the League of Nations should do all it can to get the United States to become a member nation.

Delegates to the Assembly were slow in assembling for today's session, but the work of the Assembly nevertheless was well under way before noon.

The report of the Council of the League on the work that had been done since the League was organized was taken up by the delegates after some preliminary matters had been disposed of, chiefly completion of organization of the committees.

Open Rupture Between Western Union and Government Near

Officials Say Action is Retaliatory On Part of Company

(By Associated Press)

Washington, November 16.—The long standing controversy between the State Department and the Western Union Telegraph Company has reached the stage of an open break, the company refusing to handle any further cable messages for the Department except upon prepayment of toll.

The company's order was issued on November 10, it was said today at the Department, and ostensibly was to apply to all departments of the government. It was understood, however, that messages sent by other departments had been excepted informally from the ruling.

The Western Union Company is stated to have based its action on the delay by the Department in making payment on cable messages previously handled. Department officials asserted today, however, it was in their opinion a step in retaliation for failure of the Department to permit the landing of a cable at Miami, Florida, connecting at Barbadoes with a British cable from South America. Several months ago the Western Union

KING CONSTANTINE WILL BE OPPOSED BY ALLIED POWERS

France And Great Britain Will Resist Return of King Who Was Under German Influence

PARIS, NOVEMBER 16.—(Associated Press)

—With the defeat of Premier Venizelos regarded by the French Foreign Office as certain, it is said the position of France and Great Britain with regard to former King Constantine is very clearly against his return and that both powers are determined to do everything possible to prevent it. More serious complications, as a result, are expected in the Near East.

Great Britain and France, it is indicated, will act together, but will await some indication of Constantine's intention to return. Should that be manifested, they will then do whatever may be necessary.

It was declared today at the Foreign Office France would take all possible steps to keep the former King off the throne. The question of the return of former Crown Prince George has not yet been raised, it was said.

"The defeat of Premier Venizelos," a Foreign Office statement said, "may be termed a display of gross ingratitude by the Greeks for the man who brought the country to the Allied tide and greatly increased its size, power and influence, and this view is shared by the Allies. It was a great shock to the Allies."

an applied for an executive permit to land the cable at Miami; but the State Department was said to have demanded a copy of the contract between the Western Union and the British company owning the connecting line. The copy was not forthcoming and the permit was withheld.

Later a British cable ship, which had been chartered to lay the cable was ordered to Miami. At the suggestion of the State Department the Navy Department sent destroyers to the Florida port to keep the British ship outside the three mile limit.

A report reached the government last week that the Western Union was to make another attempt to land the cable and Secretary Daniels ordered the commandant at the naval station at Key West to take steps necessary to prevent it.

JAP STUDENTS DISCUSS WAR WITH AMERICA

"Shall Japan Fight America" Is Question Under Debate

Bellicose Orators Expected To Take Part in Argument.

(By Associated Press)

Tokio, Japan, November 16.—The student societies of three of Tokyo's private universities have organized a meeting to be held tonight to discuss the question: "Shall Japan Fight America?"

The police have twice summoned committeemen from the students and tried unsuccessfully to persuade them to change the subject.

The present indications are, however, that the meeting will be held with many student orators participating. Applications to speak have been received from labor and socialist representatives and patriotic societies.

The majority of the orators are expected to take a bellicose view.

ADVERTISING RIGHTS BEING THRESHED OUT

Breach of Advertising Contract Carried to Supreme Court

(By Associated Press)

Columbus, O., November 16.—Application of the Cleveland News for review of a suit filed by it against the Standard Amusement Company seeking to compel the latter to pay full advertising rates on a year's contract was granted by the Supreme Court today.

The amusement company had a contract with the News for a specified number of inches used each week. The News alleges violation of the contract. The amusement company according to the petition, refused to furnish further advertising at which the News sought to collect for advertising carried to the date of abrogation, at regular advertising rates.

The News won in the lower court but was reversed in the Court of Appeals. The suit now will be heard in the Supreme Court.

Briefs were filed by five other newspapers in the application to the Supreme Court as "friends of the court." The newspapers were the Columbus Dispatch, Ohio State Journal, Cincinnati Commercial Tribune and Dayton Herald and Dayton Journal.

DRECO WAS FIRST MEDICINE TO REALLY DO ME ANY GOOD

Was taking medicine all the time but none seemed to hit the right spot. Was always bilious, restless, nervous, bad taste in mouth, but the great herb remedy knocked it out for him.

"I had to be taking medicine all the time yet I didn't seem to be getting rid of my troubles till one day I got some Dreco and it went right to the bottom and cleaned me out," said Mr. Geo. Felder, the well known farmer near Caledonia, Marion Co. Ohio.

"I was bilious all the time; had headaches, dizzy spells, bad taste in my mouth and my breath was foul. I was so restless and nervous that I couldn't get a night's sleep. My stomach didn't seem strong enough to digest my food and dyspepsia had a hold on me.

BANDAGE BLAZES CAUSING BURNS

Match Head Ignites Bandage and Left Hand is Painfully Burned.

Suffering intense pain from burns on his left hand, Russell Lockard, ten years old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lockard, of New Holland, was taken to the Fayette Hospital Monday for treatment.

The conditions under which the child received the burns were most unusual. Having injured his hand a few days before and having the bandage saturated with turpentine he went to the kitchen to light a lamp. The head flew off the match, striking the saturated wrapping on his hand and causing it to burst into flame.

The flesh was badly burned and so intense did the pain become that special treatment was necessary.

CHILLICOTHE HIGH IS NEXT OPPONENT

Forgetting that they received the small end of a score at Circleville on the football field last Friday afternoon the Washington High School squad has entered into its week's practice for the game here November 20th with Chillicothe High.

Chillicothe High will appear here for the first time since 1917. While they lost last Friday to Greenfield the team is really a strong aggregation and boast a victory over Ironton High, 26 to 7.

Two more games remain on the schedule of Washington High, Chillicothe here Saturday and Wilmington on Thanksgiving the following Thursday.

FARMERS CRIBBING BULK OF CORN CROP

Fayette farmers, following the custom of recent years, are cribbing their corn crop to feed to their swine, comparatively few deciding to sell on the open market at present prices.

The work of husking is proceeding very satisfactorily in most communities, considering the help shortage, and many farmers have their work well in hand and expect to have their corn cribbed by the time the severe weather develops in December.

The yield this year is one of the best in the history of Fayette county.

MAKE A GOOD MOTOR BETTER

Why Good Fuel Saves You Money And How It Does It

Good fuel saves much money for the car owner. By good fuel we mean one that is uniformly good, summer and winter; one that is easy-starting, clean-burning and powerful. How does it do it? This way—

If the fuel fires quickly there is less strain on the starting battery; that saves battery money. If it burns clean it leaves less carbon; and saves repair money. If it is powerful less will be used.

There is a fuel for Fayette county car owners with these elements and it requires no more effort and no more cost to get it than the ordinary kind. That fuel is LIBERTY GASOLINE, and it may be had at either of our filling stations in Washington and many other places in the county.

STATE SURVEY OF THE SCHOOLS IS BEING MADE

Local Superintendents To Assist in Compiling Records of Pupils

Plan New System of Grading
For Schools To Eliminate "School Mortality."

In an effort to bring about a better system of grading in the grammar grades of the schools of the state, Superintendent of Public Instruction Vernon M. Reigel has forwarded to the superintendents of schools all over the state blanks to be filled out by the principals and district superintendents in which exact age of the pupil and the grade will be recorded. Superintendent Reigel desires to know the percentage of normal, accelerated and retarded pupils and will use these percentages to work out another system of grading the schools.

It is the plan of the best informed school men of today, and heartily favored by the local school authorities, to grade pupils in their age of mentality rather than by their chronological age as is almost the universal system now in effect.

The two local school heads, Superintendent O. S. Nelson of the village and consolidated schools and Superintendent William McClain of the city schools, have received their instructions along these lines and will carry their reports out to the letter.

Similar reports have been made in the city schools, but this special report is a state-wide survey and will be used only in basing percentage figures for the new grading system under consideration.

Superintendent Reigel's letter of instruction follows in part:

"From the standpoint of pedagogy, from the standpoint of school economy, and, most important of all, from the standpoint of the individual child, retardation in the public schools of Ohio presents a serious problem to administrative authorities. It does not present a problem, however, to those who are not sharply conscious of the amount and degree of its existence. Recognizing the obvious fact that there has not been sufficient consistent focusing of attention on retardation in many parts of the state, and recognizing also that the loss of enrollment between the grades and the high school has not impressed itself insistently enough upon the educational consciousness, the State Department has felt that it would be worth while to bring conditions in these respects prominently to the attention of all concerned, so that, out of a clear recognition of need, sane attempts at solution might develop."

Since receiving notice of the state survey Superintendent Nelson has given the subject special study and explains that in Fayette county the acceleration and retardation of pupils is as noticeable as any place in the state.

In one township, according to statistics compiled by Superintendent Nelson, there are fifty pupils and of these fifty there are but twelve in the proper standing in their studies. The normal grade for a child of eleven years is the fifth, taking this as a basis of enrollment in this grade showed some surprising figures and goes to show the difference in the mental and chronological age of the child:

There was found in the accelerated class one child 8 years old; five 9 years old, and thirteen 10 years old.

There were twelve children in the normal class at 11 years of age.

In the retarded class there were nine 12 years old; four 13 years old; four 14 years old, and two 15 years old.

Under the proposed plan of grading a child failing in one study, it is understood, would not be retained in the grade for another year but would be permitted to carry the study extra with his other work. The plan would be much the same as that in effect in the high schools.

It is stated that one of the main

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

reasons for the failure of many pupils to finish their schooling is that they "flunk" in one study to which their minds are not especially adapted and they are retained another year. Consequently when another year comes around and the pupil goes back to school, he finds himself in the midst of children smaller and younger and feels out of place. He becomes the teacher's "slow" pupil and "troublemaker." Finally the child drops out, the teacher is more relieved than worried and another child has left school.

Local school men believe that with another grading system the number of pupils dropping their studies and leaving school will be decreased and that the "school mortality" will be lowered to a minimum.

Reorganizing The Remnants

Quite naturally there is a great amount of speculation and argument about just how, if at all, the Democratic party will reorganize into a fighting force in national politics, following the disastrous defeat in the last election.

In the first place it is much too early to begin any reorganization work. There is no excuse—no need—for reorganizing or attempting to reorganize the party at this time and hence all effort in that regard is wasted and all argument as to the method and the men to be identified with any reorganization is useless.

Political parties are only effective as the public need demands them and the Democratic party will not be—cannot be—reorganized into a successful force opposing the Republican party until the public need requires it. When the occasion comes the reorganization will be largely automatic.

Only eight years ago the experts who delight in discussing abstract propositions were asking if it were possible for the Republican party to ever again become dominant in national affairs. The result of the last election is an answer conclusive to the queries of eight years ago.

What the future of the Democratic party as a political force in the nation is depends entirely upon the record made by the Republicans during the next two and four year periods.

Should the officials elected on November 2nd prove unequal to the great task assigned to them or should the fires of factional warfare blaze up again the Democratic party would at once come to life as a strong fighting force. It is astonishing, especially to the new comers in politics, how rapidly the opposition to the dominant party can crystallize about a minority party and increase it to formidable if not overpowering proportions.

No ambitious political leaders, no office seekers, no frenzied politicians can rehabilitate the Democratic party. That rehabilitation can only come in response to the demand, carefully and thoughtfully framed by the American voters.

Whether that demand is to come soon or not is entirely owing to developments and while conditions are shaping themselves, the leaders might as well "saw wood" because no false issues, no twentieth century "Moses" is going to put life into the, at present, defunct Democratic party.

This is a country of two political parties and it is folly to think that any defeat, however disastrous, will permanently dispose of all opposition.

One thing is certain, however, the people are not going to take kindly to a campaign of petty fault-finding directed against the incoming administration. They have spoken decisively and they are going to stand behind their decree until real cause for complaint arises, no matter how anxious the impatient leaders of the minority party may desire to hurry along the reorganization work which they hope will again carry them into place and power.

The Theatre Panic

The frightful tragedy in New York Sunday night in which half a score of children were trampled to death and as many more maimed as a result of a wild panic following an alarm of fire, should warn us all that the safest—the only safe—thing to do when an alarm of fire is sounded in a theater or crowded meeting, is to remain quiet.

There isn't one case in a thousand, no matter whether the cry of fire is true or false, where death or serious injury is suffered by those who remain quietly in their places. There is always, especially in these days of numerous exits to public auditoriums, time for the largest crowds to leave the building quickly and orderly in a few seconds time. The only danger is in a panic—a frantic rush to escape.

The alarm of fire in the New York theater proved to be a false one but the awful penalty was paid by the innocent children to the spirit of human panic. There is no greater danger to life than a panic stricken crowd.

No matter what the alarm may be—no matter what the actual conditions are, it is safer to remain quiet and leave orderly—that's the only chance of escape. Panic brings its own terrible danger and prevents escape from any other danger.

POETRY FOR TODAY

ALL WE CAN DO

All we can do is with word and with voice
To help the old world a bit learn to rejoice,
To sing back the sunshine when shadows drift high,
To help put the gladness in life's troubled sky.
All we can do—but with will let us make it
An effort of love, and a glad world to take it.

All we can do is to play our part well,
Look up and lead on and have true things to tell
Of life and its beauty, its song and its truth
That the sad hearts may taste again sweetness and youth.
All we can do—it's our duty to do it,
With a hope in our hearts for the world as we view it.

All we can do is to go on with trust,
And the faith and the hope that beyond the gray dust
There's a sparkle of sunshine, a heaven more sweet
Than ever earth dreamed of under men's feet.
All we can do—it's our faith cries to try it,
And the hope in our heart that some life profit by it.

FOR PRESIDENT TO RE-SUBMIT TREATY WOULD BE FUTILE ACT

Offer to Accept Lodge Reservations Would Bring "About Face."

After Standing by Article Ten Through So Much Tragedy

President Not Likely to Throw It Overboard Now.

BY MARK SULLIVAN
(Copyright 1920)

Washington, November 16.—Washington buzzes with speculation as to whether or not President Wilson will again submit the treaty and the attached league covenant to the senate when it reassembles on the first Monday in December. Gossip represents the President as in a mood to do dramatic things, as intending to address congress personally from a wheeled chair.

To resubmit the treaty would be a dramatic thing, but it is difficult to see how it could be other than a futile thing.

Everybody knows, of course, that President Wilson could have got the treaty through the senate any time during the twelve months of debate on it if he had been willing to throw Article X overboard. But he said Article X was "the heart of the covenant," and defied the senate's efforts to eliminate it. Of course, it is conceivable that the President might now take the ground that he invited a great popular referendum, that this referendum has been held; that, however the result of the referendum may be interpreted on some points, there can be no question that it was overwhelmingly adverse to Article X; that he bows to the decision of the majority, and that he now resubmits the treaty to the senate and pledges himself in advance to accept the elimination of Article X and otherwise to agree to all the so-called "Lodge reservations."

President Wilson could do that. It would, in the terminology of political strategy, "put the senate in a hole." It would put Senator Lodge under the necessity of making another tortuous reversal. But there need be no doubt that the senate would endure the embarrassment cheerfully, and Senator Lodge would make the necessary "about face" with the facile grace born of that considerable experience in tortuosity which has been forced upon him by exigencies of changing developments in the league situation.

In the event that President Wilson should do this thing that gossip suspects, Senator Lodge, as chairman of the Senate Foreign Affairs Committee, would undoubtedly say that the situation has changed since the senate last talked compromise with the President, that a new president with a new policy will take office in three months, and that he would keep the resubmitted treaty in his Foreign Affairs Committee until March 4.

No Olive Branch to Senate Likely
But President Wilson is most unlikely to resubmit the treaty with an offer to accept the reservations, or to do anything else harmful to Article X.

President Wilson is not self-deceived about his position. He knows that even more than most presidents after an election in which the opposition party wins, he is impotent for immediate or practical results. From now on Wilson will be intent on keeping his records straight for history. And having history in mind, after standing by Article X through so much tragedy he is not likely to throw it overboard now.

I think that very few people realize how completely Wilson is wrapped up in Article X. Article X may or may not be "the heart of the treaty" as Wilson says it is. Elihu Root says it is not. If Mr. Root were describing Article X in terms of anatomy he would say it is a third leg, or an extra head. Mr. Root's exact language is that Article X "is a provision standing by itself quite outside the general scheme of the league." But however that may be, whether Article X is "the heart of the covenant" or not, it is most certainly very close to the heart of Wilson. It is Wilson's own child, and so far as the covenant is concerned it is said to be his only child. If Article X were eliminated, the covenant would be not Wilson's but some one else's. If Article X were eliminated, history could hardly set Wilson down as father of the league of nations. And it is fair to infer that this is exactly the dream that Wilson has about history.

DOES THIS EXPLAIN IT?

To size up the Mexican situation at close range may be President-elect Harding's real reason for spending twelve days of his vacation on the Texas coast.

That Wilson personally is responsible for Article X there can be no doubt. That it is the only substantial element that Wilson contributed to the treaty has been said in a spirit unfriendly to Mr. Wilson, but this is not so clear. It is a point as to which only historians with access to secret minutes can be just.

The Genesis of Article X

But one thing is certain. So far as I know, attention has never been adequately called to the fact that Article X did not come into President Wilson's mind in connection with the league of nations. It was not devised by him as a part of the covenant. It was first devised by him long before the league of nations was thought of. Article X was first devised by President Wilson some time during 1915, and was first put into words by him in a speech delivered on January 6, 1916, before the second Pan-American scientific congress.

At that time President Wilson had the problem of Mexico much on his mind. He wanted the co-operation of Chile, Argentina, Brazil and other South American countries in handling the Mexican problem. He wanted to devise a plan which would make all the nations in North and South America equal partners in preserving the integrity of each of them. In expressing this Mr. Wilson first alluded to the Monroe Doctrine and then said:

"I believe that you will sustain me in the statement that it has been fears and suspicions on this score which have hitherto prevented the greater intimacy and confidence and trust between the Americans. The states of America have not been certain of what the United States would do with her power. That doubt must be removed. And latterly there has been a very frank interchange of views between the authorities in Washington and those who represented the other states of this hemisphere, an interchange of views charming and hopeful, because based upon an increasingly sure appreciation of the spirit in which they were undertaken."

"These gentlemen have seen that if America is to come into her own, her legitimate own, in a world of peace and order, she must establish the foundations of amity so that none will hereafter doubt them. I hope and believe that this can be accomplished. These conferences have enabled me to foresee how it will be accomplished. It will be accomplished in the first place by the states of America uniting in guaranteeing to each other absolutely political independence and territorial integrity."

Identity of Thought

The identity in thought is clear between this passage and the language of Article X: "The members of the league undertake to respect and preserve as against external aggression the territorial integrity and existing political independence of the members of the league."

The deductions and inferences drawn by the persons who have known this earlier incarnation of Article X in President Wilson's mind have not been friendly to his place in history. This, however, does by any means follow necessarily. However it may be, the fact is given here merely as a contribution to the covenant's genealogy.

RANDOM NOTES

SOCIAL : PERSONAL MENTION : CLUBS

Complimenting her guests, Mrs. Gerald Harvey, of Boise City Idaho (nee Helen Pursell) Mrs. Lulu Sheets gave an extremely pretty and pleasurable progressive bridge, Monday afternoon.

Five tables engaged in play, Mrs. Roy Brown scoring high and winning the favor, gorgeous chrysanthemums. The serving of an elaborate two course luncheon followed the game.

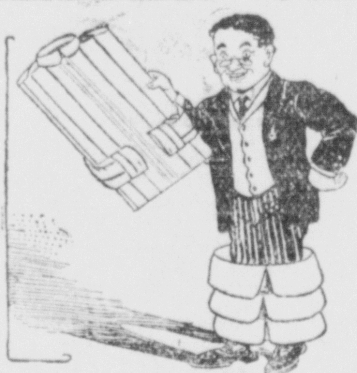

Large chrysanthemums, in pastel shades and tasteful arrangement, were used in decoration and button chrysanthemums, filled bud vases in the center of the card tables.

Mrs. A. C. Henkle, assisted her daughter in the cordial hospitalities of the home. Mrs. Harvey, who was very attractive in a modish gown of navy blue beaded tricot, was eagerly welcomed back by the special friends of her girlhood's residence here. Mrs. Sheets wore a smart gown of midnight blue georgette.

Mrs. E. F. Niquie, of Springfield, was an out of town guest.

The young women of the Tuesday Kensington Club found Mrs. Walter Ellis' hospital home, a cheery contrast to the first real winter and falling snow outside.

Mrs. Ellis served a delectable reception.

The Westminster Guild has inaugurated the very happy idea of prefacing the regular evening meeting with a six o'clock dinner.

On Monday evening Miss Esther Le-land delightfully filled the role of hostess, serving a daintily appointed dinner of tempting viands.

Lavender chrysanthemums provided decoration.

Fifteen young women enjoyed the merry dinner hour which preceded the opening business.

Mrs. Austin F. Hopkins gave a fine review of "The Near East—The Crossroads of the World."

The following excerpt from the society columns of The Columbus Mississippi Commercial will be read with much interest by relatives and friends of the bride elect in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ellsworth Resler announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Lucile Eleanor, to Mr. Carbis Arthur Walker, of Montgomery, Ala. The wedding to take place in December in Columbus, Miss.

The winsome young bride-to-be spent part of her girl hood here and returned a few years ago to take part of her high school course in the Washington schools.

Bare arms, flimsy waists and short skirts have no place in the juvenile court at Washington, D. C., according to Judge Kathryn Sellers, who has ordered that all the 17 young women attached to the court shall dress with greater modesty.

All save one of the girls complied with the edict. She resigned after she had been told by her honor to go home and wash the paint and powder off her face.

"Mrs. Otto Tritscheller (nee Lela Hegler, of this city) entertained very charmingly on Saturday afternoon with three tables of cards for Mrs. Harry Taylor of Portsmouth and Mrs. M. W. Gaithey of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Charles Erdman won the prize for the most skill at auction and the honored guests were presented with trophies of the affair.

Yellow was the color note of the tasteful decorations, after the game, the hostess served a reliable luncheon in two courses.

Mrs. Will Woodrow entertained for the same guests the previous day. —Scioto Gazette.

The Girl Scout organization was founded by Mrs. Juliette Low of Savannah, Ga., in 1912, for the purpose of developing a better womanhood throughout the United States with the triple aim—home-making, health-building and citizenship.

There are now 82,176 Girl Scouts in the United States, according to Mrs. Rippin, National Director or Girl Scout Troops in 1184 towns. The great need at present, she says, is for trained leaders, because no more girls can be registered as Scouts until leaders, trained in Scouting, can be assigned to them.

Mrs. Rippin telegraphed the chief executive of each state in the union asking that he proclaim "Girl Scout Week" in his state for the week of November 6 to 15, to aid the Scouts in their membership campaign to raise $1,033,490.

The budget needed to carry out this program for the coming year, $1,033,490, calls for $150,000 for expansion, $500,000 for Scout budgets in cities and towns, $172,490 for over head expenses including camps, equipment, printing, stationery, rent, light and heat; $84,000 for staff salaries, $77,000 for fourteen field organizers.

"Girl Scout week was generally observed over the country and gave to people a better understanding of the good work this organization is doing.

"Invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Wahneta Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Azariah Fisher, to Harry H. Hamilton, at Fisher home at 278 North Mulberry street, Thanksgiving Day, at 2 p. m.

"Miss Fisher is a graduate of Wilmington College and since leaving school has been teaching in the county. She is a very accomplished young woman and is very well-known in Wilmington and the county, where she has a countless number of friends. Mr. Hamilton is a son of George Hamilton, lives on a farm near the western outskirts of the city. He is a very well-known and well-liked young man, and is a modern farmer of no mean ability. He was overseas with the Army of Occupation during the recent war, being stationed for a time in Germany.

"The happy young couple will make their home on a farm, where they will be at home to their friends soon after the wedding."—Wilmington News.

Miss Fisher was employed as Domestic Science instructor in the Good Hope High School, the past year.

Anarchistic conditions in Russia are not proving congenial to the Goldman type of woman and the latest word concerning Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman, forcefully deported from the United States amid sensational scenes, says that, after a disagreement with Lenin and Trotsky, they have made a hurried exit from Russia.

Before the communication from Miss Goldman, recounting her differences with Lenin, the last word from the famous agitator was contained in a letter describing cold, hunger and misery in Petrograd. She stated her intention of going to Moscow, the Soviet capital, for a personal talk with Lenin.

Describing Miss Goldman's personality as "nothing if not positive," government officials expressed the belief today that it was this interview which resulted in the breach and the hastened exit.

It was stated by immigration officials today that any attempt by Miss Goldman and her companion to re-enter the United States would be useless, as they are too well known to escape detection at any American port.

That the female of the species is more deadly than the male some persons may be inclined to disbelieve, but all will agree that by extremely simple actions the female of the species can have a deadly effect upon the composure of a male when the occasion demands. For example: He was a very chivalrous young man, especially when the young lady happened to be pretty. This young lady happened to be pretty. She was in the Grand Central Terminal and was carrying a travelling bag that appeared to be heavy.

"May I carry your travelling bag for you?" he asked, all smiles.

"Oh, thank you," she replied, smiling in return.

He grasped the handle of the bag.

It was heavy. He fell into step alongside of her as she led the way out of the station and approached a taxicab. He stowed the bag safely on the front seat of the cab. She turned toward him before climbing into the cab, holding out her hand to him. He raised his hand to grasp hers and—into his palm she dropped a new and shining 10 cent piece.—New York Sun.

The announcement of the marriage of Miss Vada Brakefield daughter of Mrs. Viola Brakefield of near Staunton and Mr. Arthur McCoy of the Waterloo pike Tuesday, November second in Covington Kentucky, is being learned with interest by the many friends of both the bride and bridegroom. Mr. and Mrs. McCoy will reside with the bride's mother for the present.

"Children's Book" week, endorsed by the state federation, will be observed this year during the week of November 15.—A discussion of children's reading might well be placed on club programs in November each year, because "Children's Book" week is going to be an annual event. Coming in November it is helpful to fathers and mothers who are puzzled over what books to give their children for Christmas.

Mrs. Thomas P. Pierce, Harrison, announces the members of her state federation committee on education as follows: Mrs. Harry S. Moulton, Lima; Mrs. E. M. Cosley, Troy; Mrs. Robert H. ## DATE ANNOUNCED FOR BIG PAGEANT

High School Glee Clubs Will Present Pageant to Celebrate Landing of Pilgrims.

Tuesday evening, December 21st, is the date set by the high school glee clubs for the presentation of "The Pageant of the Pilgrims" for which rehearsals are now being held under the direction of Miss Louise Habegar, instructor in music in the city schools.

December 21 will celebrate to the day the Tre centenary Landing of the Pilgrim Fathers.

Because of the magnitude of the pageant the glee clubs will receive assistance from the other high school students.

Lavish costumes are all included in the pageant.

FIVE SCHOOL HEADS IN CONFERENCE HERE

For the purpose of fixing the dates and making more definite arrangements for the teacher's institutes which will be held next year on the chaataqua plan, the school superintendents of the joint institute district, Greene, Highland, Clinton and Ross met with local superintendent, O. S. Nelson, in the offices of the County Board of Education Tuesday.

It was an all day session and it was expected that the plans for the institute together with the speakers itinerary for the five county circuit would be complete.

MANY RABBITS IN THIS COUNTY

Many hunters, returning from their first day in the field, announced that they had little difficulty in bagging a number of choice rabbits, and that the number of little animals this year is equal to any recent year.

While the general opinion is that the rabbits are plentiful, and many amateurs had no difficulty in locating them, others who were in less favorable territory declared that it was only after miles of tramping that they saw their first bunny, and many came back empty handed.

A close lookout is being kept for hunters without licenses.

PROLONGED ILLNESS RESULTS FATALLY

After several months of illness, Mr. Robert Greenlee, aged 74 years, passed quietly away at his home in Bloomingburg Tuesday morning at half past four o'clock.

Mr. Greenlee was one of the old citizens and substantial men of the Bloomingburg community, thoroughly respected in business relations and personally held in high esteem by all who knew him.

For many years he had been engaged in the grocery business, retiring from active life a comparatively short time ago.

Surviving a devoted husband and father are the widow and two children Mrs. Howard Jefferson, Bloomingburg, and Mr. Fuller Greenlee, of Chicago.

Particular sad was the death of the daughter, Mary Greenlee only a few months ago.

The only surviving brother, Mr. Charles Greenlee, of Buffalo, N. Y., was with Mr. Greenlee for the week before his death.

Mr. Greenlee was a member and regular attendant of the Bloomingburg Presbyterian church, where funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at two o'clock. Burial will be made in the family lot in the Bloomingburg cemetery.

WHIPPING CREAM

The kind that whips—every time. That's the kind of whipping cream you get from the Clover Leaf Dairy.

Just think the many ways in which you can serve whipped cream these cool days. It is delicious at any season, but in cool weather it seems to be more in demand, perhaps because of the delicious cool weather desserts to serve it on.

Serve whipped cream, or plain cream, and to get the best have our drivers leave it at your door. Your order the day before insures against disappointment.

ALL CANADIAN WHEAT STORED SUPPLY SHORT

Chicago Has Unusually Small Supply of Wheat in Storage

Small Movement to Market Attracts Attention.

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, November 16.—Every bushel of wheat of contract grade in Chicago public elevators is Canadian grown except 2,000 bushels, according to official figures made public here today. The total stock is but 86,000 bushels and of this amount 84,000 bushels is Canadian.

The supply decreased 168,000 bushels in the last week.
Lack of accumulation of stocks of wheat not only here but at other western markets is general and in this connection the present small movement from the hands of farmers is attracting special attention.

DIAMOND THIEF UNDER ARREST IN THIS CITY

Man With Spanish Accent Confesses To Burglarizing Room at Cherry Hotel.

Is Nabbed by Chief Moore After He Sells $75 Diamond for $10.

On a charge of larceny Frank Diaz, 22, self confessed burglar, was bound over to the grand jury under $1,000 bond by Mayor V. J. Dahl Tuesday morning.

Diaz confessed to Chief of Police Moore Monday afternoon that he stole a diamond brooch valued at $75 from Mrs. Frank G. Carpenter, room 22, at the Cherry Hotel, shortly before noon Monday.

He said that his home is El Paso, Texas. He is of very slight build, fairly well dressed, and mild manner. His features are of decided Spanish and his long black hair combed straight back. He speaks with a distinctive Spanish accent.

First intimation that the burglary had been committed was transmitted to the police by George Worrell, of the Worrell Jewelry Store, after a stranger had appeared and offered to sell the diamond for $15. Mr. Worrell realized that the diamond was of much greater value than the price named and sent a call for the police after the man had walked out.

Chief Moore notified the other jewelry stores to be on the lookout for the diamond and when the Gosard Jewelry Store was consulted they said Ed Cavinee had purchased a diamond from a stranger for ten dollars and that the transaction had taken place in the store after the stranger had asked to have the value of the stone verified.

Two hours afterwards Chief Moore completed his search when he accosted a man answering the description in front of the Fire Department.

Three hours of a third degree from the Chief brought a signed confession from the man which read as follows: "My name is Frank Diaz, my home is in El Paso, Texas. I am 22 years old."

"I have been arrested three times, two times for drunkenness and fighting and once for entering room 22 at the Cherry Hotel and stealing a diamond."

He also says that he came from Midland City Sunday night and that he spent the night at the Cherry Hotel in room 62.

Asked his reasons for coming to this city he declared that he had come to work in the foundry; and when questioned why he stole the diamond he declared that he was "hard up."

When arraigned before Mayor Dahl Tuesday morning at ten o'clock he unhesitatingly entered a plea of guilty.

BLAZING SHED CALLS FIREMEN TO SCENE

Answering the second call in two days the fire department extinguished a blazing coal shed at the Dohrman Johnson home, 732 South Sycamore street, about 9:15 Tuesday morning.

A rubbish pile blazing beside the shed caught in the roof and threatened until fireman had it under control. Very little damage resulted.

CITY SCHOOLS EARNING FLAGS IN ENROLLMENT

Twelve Rooms Are Displaying Flags For Filling Quota.

Reports Will Soon Be Heard From County Schools In Midst of Enrollment.

Superintendent William McClain, who is conducting the Red Cross membership enrollment in the city schools reported Tuesday that twelve of his rooms have "gone over the top" by securing more than 66 2/3 per cent membership and have proudly displayed their flags won for the work in the Fourth Roll Call.

These rooms are:
Central—Mrs. Tuttle, 8th grade; Miss Blackman, 4th grade; Miss Taylor, 6th grade; Miss Bell, kindergarten; Miss Green, 5th grade; Miss Fultz, 2nd grade; Miss Palmer, 1st grade; Miss Hess, 2nd grade; Mrs. Moore 5th grade; Miss Baughn, 6th grade.

Sunnyside—Miss Ada Woodward, 4th grade.
Cherry Hill—Miss Corda McCafferty, 6th grade.

It is only necessary for the enrollment to be two thirds of the pupils in the room to win the flags, but the majority of the rooms have gone above that amount, says the superintendent, by enrolling one hundred per cent while other rooms have expended extra effort and have the flag with 130 per cent by enrolling persons outside the school.

The local Red Cross chapter made fifty flags which they have offered to the schoolrooms "going over the top" and thirty have been engaged by the city schools.

The drive in the county schools is just now getting under way and reports from the various schools that apply for their flags will be heard within a few days, it is believed.

Appearing regularly in

The Washington Herald

Mark Sullivan is recognized as the leading political observer and writer of this time. He is impartial—a correspondent and a news writer who knows no master save the facts and his years of experience, his association with the leading statesmen and politicians of the day enable him to secure and arrange his facts, not only in a grippingly interesting manner but in such a way that his prophecies of coming events in the world of politics seem almost beyond human ability.

Sullivan was first to announce what Senator Harding's plan for a League of Nations would be. Sullivan was first to announce what Elihu Root would suggest—an international court. Sullivan was first to forecast the election result and the only one of the many observers to forecast it accurately.

The election is over but Mark Sullivan will remain on watch for developments and forecast events in advance of their coming.

BIG AUDIENCE HEARS EXPERT GIVE LECTURE

Valuable Hints to Retailers Carried in Illustrated Lecture Monday Evening.

Local Business Men And Women Pleased With Presentation of Facts.

More than 300 representative business men and women Monday night heard H. W. Karr, well known business expert, delivered a fine lecture on the subject, "Getting the Most Out of Retailing." He spoke in the High School Auditorium. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Dutch Treat Club, Henry Brownell presiding.

In the afternoon Mr. Karr addressed about 500 pupils in the auditorium on welfare work and community betterment. Supt. McClain of the public schools said he believed the lecture which was illustrated with stereopticon views and moving pictures, would be of lasting value to the pupils and expressed regret that the whole school was not present.

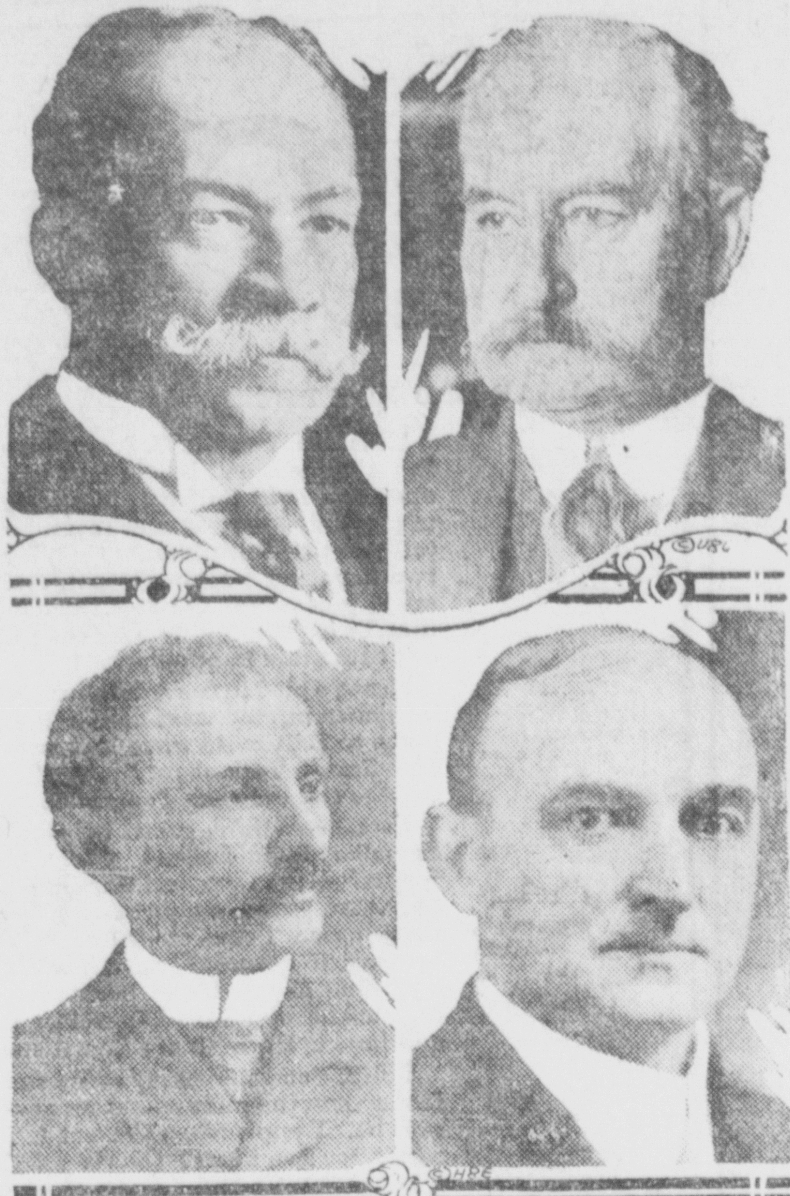

The evening lecture dealt entirely with business problems. However, it was introduced by a fifteen-minute film which treated welfare and community subjects. America was sung, with illustrated slides.

One of the important subjects discussed by Mr. Karr, who represents The National Cash Register company of Dayton, was newspaper advertising. In this connection he said:

"Many merchants do not give this very serious question sufficient attention, due largely to the stress of petty details. Yet statistics show that lack of advertising has resulted in the ruin of many stores, while certainly hundreds of stores have remained small because of this neglect."

"Newspaper advertising travels far and wide. It is the medium through which the merchant gets his message to the customers in their homes. Customers like to read their store news and general news together. The merchant who fills his advertisement with news of his store and valuable information about the goods he carries is sure to attract the attention of prospective buyers.

CALIFORNIAN MAY BE LABOR SECRETARY; NEW MEX. MAY GIVE ATTORNEY GENERAL

Recent discussions of the possibilities for cabinet positions in the Harding administration lay stress upon the possibility of the appointment of David Jayne Hill, former U. S. ambassador to Germany, as secretary of state, provided Senator Knox is offered the position and declines it. Representative Nolan of California now is mentioned as the favored one for secretary of labor. Senator Fall of New Mexico is one of the men considered for secretary of the interior because of his knowledge of the west. Former Governor Stokes of New Jersey is mentioned in connection with the naming of the secretary of commerce.

"Ask any merchant who his strongest competitors are and he will tell you almost without exception the names of stores that do the greatest amount of advertising."

"Unfortunately too many merchants believe it is necessary for them to exaggerate to get the attention of customers. This is not so. Of course flaming headlines like 'The Greatest Values Ever Offered' will attract attention but used too frequently will destroy confidence in advertising. It is sufficient to state facts. If you have an exceptional bargain, say so. But do not exaggerate. As a general rule it is the best policy to give the prices with your advertising."

"Do not spend a few dollars and say advertising does not pay. It does pay, as is attested by thousands of merchants who have become successful through its use. I would suggest that you make it a daily policy of your store."

The advertising reel is said to be the best of its kind ever produced. It takes the audience through the operation of preparing an ad for the newspaper and then shows the printer the right and wrong ways to set an ad.

Referring to store organization Mr. Karr said:

"The store which knows best how to serve the buying public will get the most trade, but unless at the same time it can make a profit, it can not succeed. A successful store must be thoroughly organized. The help should look after the details, leaving the merchant free to keep his fingers on the pulse of the business and to give a little time to affairs of the community."

"Goods must be displayed to please the customers. Customers must be told promptly about the goods carried and impressed with the fact that the store is wide awake and progressive."

"The sales force should be made to know the value of giving, prompt, satisfactory service to customers. The merchant makes it a point to know, rather than to guess, about the important facts of his business. He should control his business, his cash, stock and help."

The importance of window displays was impressed upon the audience. "While there are other forms of good advertising," the speaker said, "it is just as wasteful for a farmer to rent land of a neighbor and allow his own land to grow up in weeds as it is for a merchant to try other kinds of advertising and neglect his show windows." He said every merchant should make his display windows, pay big dividends on the investment.

The speaker said that while advertising and window displays are valuable aids to selling there is no substitute for personal salesmanship. He said all progressive merchants realize the value of their salesmen and that store managers where are seeking ways and means to better store service. "The best way I know of," said Mr. Karr "is to conduct a sales school in which each member of the selling force is taught the best methods of selling and serving."

The business lecture was illustrated with 6,000 feet of moving pictures and fifty stereopticon slides. Local merchants said it was one of the most constructive talks they have heard in a long time, and the speaker was generously applauded for the very able manner in which he delivered his valuable message.

What Red Cross Means TO YOU Here in Fayette County

Here are some of the things which have been done and others now being done by the Fayette County Red Cross:

PLEDGED TO SEE THE SOLDIER THROUGH—

In time of peace, as in war, the soldier is still occupying a prominent place in the work of the Red Cross.

The disabled soldier is being aided in the matter of—

The Red Cross, since organized here in Fayette County, has helped financially hundreds of families, tiding them over until allotment has arrived, caring for the sick in the homes, providing help and practical nurses during sickness, supplying extra bedding, loaning money.

Refugee garments made here for over-sea war victims number more than 1000.

Sent thousands of articles of supplies for soldiers in hospitals.

Thousands of knitted articles sent to the soldiers over-seas and in camps.

Thousands of surgical dressings made.

Face masks by the thousands were made for Camp Sherman during the Flu epidemic.

Funds to the amount of $50,000 have been used in Relief work in the various activities above mentioned.

As to the Home Hygiene Classes—

Fifteen Classes throughout the County with 250 pupils are now enrolled, teaching the women and girls how to care for the sick in their own homes.

Classes formed in the High Schools at Jeffersonville, Bloomingburg, Good Hope and Washington High School, besides classes among the women in Milledgeville, Jeffersonville, Bloomingburg, and many classes in this city.

War orphan garments for over-seas are now being made by the schools throughout the County where they have Domestic Science, the Red Cross furnishing the material.

ADAMS COUNTY
HAS INDUSTRY
EXTRAORDINARY

An enterprise whose magnitude and importance is comparatively little known even in Adams county, is located at Peebles, Ohio and is known as the Basic Product Company, with the manufacturing plant at Kenova, W. Va., and main offices at Pittsburgh.

The Company's property contains an area of about seven square miles and is one of the few in existence that contains a lime stone deposit so particularly adapted in the manufacture of material used in the lining of furnaces, in steel mills and in other operation using high temperatures.

The Company employs on an average, a working force of sixty men, who are enabled by a modern crushing equipment and plant, to ship over two thousand tons a day of crushed stone to the manufacturing plant located at Kenova, W. Va., where it is manufactured into materials known as Syndolag and Double-Dead Burnt Dolomite, upon which the company has a patent, the Syndolag being used where very high temperatures are maintained.

The equipment for crushing the stone consists of an initial crusher capable of breaking into small fragments huge rocks four feet square at the ends and from six to eight feet long. From the initial crusher the material is carried to a series of smaller crushers which reduce the size of the crushed rock to their maximum dimensions is one and one-half inches. This material is shipped to Kenova where it is converted into refractories which are shipped all over the United States.

The quarry face, at present, is about a mile in length and is being extended 1800 feet farther, and is from 30 to 60 feet in height. Four locomotives are used to transport the material from the quarry to the crushers. In drilling the rock for blasting three well drills are employed, the holes being drilled six inches in diameter to a depth of from 40 to 60 feet, and about 15 feet apart; one-half car of dynamite being frequently used in one blast.

The Company is equipped with independent pumping plant and has its own electric light. Sixteen cottages have been erected for the convenience of the workmen employed at the plant who do not reside in Peebles.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

THIS SUIT HINTS
OF CAVALIER DAYS

Attire in this picturesque costume, milady might be mistaken for a "laughing cavalier," but in reality she is wearing one of the latest fashions which has been approved by Paris. Its originality would attract attention anywhere while it lacks any trace of the obviously attempted bizarreness so evident in many Paris styles. It is made of soft brown velvet, embroidered in gold thread on scarlet duvetyn.

FIND SKELETON
IN SEALED GRAVE
ON RATTLESNAKE

While T. J. Wheelin was making excavations for an ice plant which he is building at Centerfield, he ran into a walled up cavern, which after it had been opened, proved to contain the skeleton of a human being. The excavation is being made just to the left of the Greenfield pike, a hundred feet or so this side of the iron bridge beyond Centerfield.

The tomb was about four feet under the ground. The workmen, after ascertaining the nature of their find, recovered the bones as they were.

No one knows who the occupant of the grave might have been. When the new pike was built it was graded down about two feet, so the depth of the grave and the manner of burial indicates that it was not a prehistoric tomb. Mrs. S. A. Turner's grand mother vaguely remembers a stranger having been buried on the banks of Rattlesnake Creek, years and years ago, and this undoubtedly is the spot where he was laid to rest.—Leesburg Citizen.

CIGARETTES

Dallas, Texas, Sunday,

DEAR OLD BOY PETE!

This corner of the U. S. mainland is so wonderful in its bigness and bustle I guess I go mouth wide open and eyes staring! Why, Pete, Texans don't talk in miles—it doesn't mean anything! They'll tell you that this place, or that, is an all-day trip, or two days and a night distant, etc. And, old yardstick, you've got the feet, just let it sink in deep that Texas is not only over 800 miles wide but it is our fifth state in population!

Heard a bird in the Adolphus Hotel say that when he comes off the west border he figures he's close home to Baltimore when he's across the Lone Star State! Talk about "jumps"! Try a few, say the one between Texarkana and El Paso!

Pete, everything grows big down here—business as well as folks' hearts! I like the way they never forget! Here I was walking on Main Street yesterday when as fine a type of man as ever wore one of those broad Texas smiles came up to me. "How are you, lieutenant?" says he. "Maybe you'll call back that day at Camp Dick when I brought over that bunch of Camel Cigarettes for the boys," he continued. Right then a Camel conference opened!

Golly, Pete, this party coins Camel compliments faster than the mint makes money! "Lieutenant," says he, "I know when I'm 'set'! I've smoked cigarettes for five years! (NOW LISTEN, PETER!) I know Camels and I know their marvellous mild, mellow body and refreshing flavor and wonderful Turkish and Domestic blend! A million Camels wouldn't tire a smoker's taste!" Now, Pete, I'll say that's some testifying!

Sincerely

Shorty.

P. S.—Between you and me I'll be gazing at tall buildings and things around 43d and Broadway—N.E.W. Y.O.R.—about the hour this note hits Boston's Back Bay! Write me at the same old stand!
